Boat ready for 1st trip

River-boat gambling in the St. Louis area enters a new era today as the Casino Queen makes its maiden voyage.

The new boat, based in East St. Louis, will provide the Alton Belle Casino with its first direct competition. And it is a forerunner of even more competition destined to take place when gambling debuts on the St. Louis riverfront.

But officials of both the Casino Queen and Alton Belle say there is plenty of action to go around.

Steve Norton, chief operating officer of Argosy Gaming Co., which owns the Belle, said the Casino Queen will try to steal some customers, but he added, "I do not anticipate a decrease in attendance or revenue."

"We just believe the market is so large, it can support the two of us and probably five or six other boats," Norton said.

Capitol渡頭 general manager Jim Edlund said bountiful the Belle from the market is not even in his wildest dreams.

"There's certainly competition, but we see them as our neighbor," he said. "When you think of St. Louis, you think of a 2.5 million people... we think it can support two boats even though we share the same customer base."

"Hopefully we can work together and be complementary to each other."

At the Alton Landing, with restaurants, lounges and entertainment, will help the Belle compete for tourism and entertainment dollars. It includes the restaurant and entertainment barges used with the original Belle.

The Casino Queen, touted as the biggest gambling boat in the nation, differs in style from the $20 million Alton Belle Casino, which made its debut Monday. The Casino Queen is a replica of a 19th-century riverboat and cost $13 million to build. It can accommodate 4,000 passengers, but 1,800 will be the limit for

The 450-foot-long, 70-foot-wide Casino Queen was scheduled to leave her dock for the first time this morning. The new vessel is touted as "the largest riverboat gaming casino in North America" and will offer six cruises daily from the East St. Louis riverfront down the Mississippi River to near the Jefferson Barracks Bridge.

MESD tunnel leads to boat's entrance

The only entrance to the new Casino Queen tunnel through the Metro East Sanitary District's levee is a 70-foot-long tunnel.

"It's a real nice tunnel — it's carpeted and everything — but the boat people tell us it's our job to keep it dry," said Shang Greathouse, MESD president.

"I told them, 'Not at our expense it isn't.' I told them we'll be happy to do anything, but we will send them the bill and they will pay it."

Greathouse said, having gone more "high-powered out," to argue with about when to open and close flood gates "is just what I needed."

But Greathouse said he had been in a meeting with operators of the Casino Queen and was assured that there would be no problem with billing the Casino Queen for services.

"But I don't believe things until I see them," Greathouse said. "I've got half the world on a cash-only basis now."

Greathouse said that the flood gates at the tunnel would be tested when the Mississippi River reaches 34 feet and closed when the river reaches 38 feet.

"It's our call," Greathouse said. "I guess it would close the boat down."

Records secretary for police retirees

By Bob Slatte

Staff writer

If you have had any business dealings in Granite City, chances are good Marian Henrich is your name.

Henrich, who would not reveal her age, retired last week after nearly 30 years as a secretary in the Granite City Police Department records room — better known to the public as "the lady at the next window."

For the last two years, those who wanted copies of traffic accident reports or a police record check for a job application have been instructed by the officer in charge to "see the lady at the next window."

Among Henrich's duties were filing about 25,000 police reports each year, providing copies of those reports and record checks to the public, answering telephones and typing patrol schedules.

Among her unofficial duties were buying lottery tickets for the police department, solving the world's problems over morning coffee and complaining to the press.

"There were good days and there were bad days. But the good outweighed the bad," Henrich said.

"The best part about the job was serving the citizens of the city and helping them deal with the newspaper reporter" who constantly requested her to look up police reports, she said. When Henrich began working at the police station, records were written out and filed by hand. Since that time, computerization has been implemented.

Fall completion for 2nd river lock

Jim Bissell admires the new 600-foot lock at the Melvin Price Lock and Dam like a father with a new baby.

"The lock is nearly finished, and it's a beauty," said Bissell, resident engineer of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers who is overseeing the construction of the auxiliary lock along the Illinois shore.

"We lived with the job every day for three years."

The site on the Mississippi River is north of Granite City and south of Alton.

Workers are putting final touches on the $220 million lock for the "grand opening" of its gates this fall, Bissell said. "We'll run the first boat through the lock in October."

Towboats have been pushing barges through the main, 1,200-foot lock since it was completed in December 1989.

The auxiliary lock will be used for smaller craft and to help relieve congestion at the big lock.

Bissell has been chief engineer on the project since work started on the dam on the Missouri shore in 1980. "I watched them pour the foundation for the dam," he said.

The 13-year project to build the dam and locks will cost a total of $900 million, he said, making it one of the biggest construction projects in the nation's history.

It is named after the late Congressman Melvin Price, former chairman of the House Armed Services Committee and the Joint Senate-House Committee on Strategic Arms Reduction.

Electrical crews are busily finishing the wiring for controls on the 600-foot lock, said engineer Jim Keene of the corps.

More than 300,000 cubic yards of concrete have been poured into the second lock since the spring of 1990, Keene said. The last 23,000 cubic yards of concrete to finish the guide walls leading into the lock, Keene said. "We'll be pouring the guide walls through the summer."

The contractor is tearing down the walls of the $14 million cofferdam around the new lock, Keene said. The cofferdam held back the water on the 20-acre construction site.

"We started pumping water into the new lock in December," Keene said.

More than 477,000 tons of sand from the cofferdam cells is being hauled on barges to the Missouri shore, Keene said.

Corps project manager Bill Sutton is waiting for Congress to approve money to design a $5 million visitors center.

Rain may cause cuts at MESD

By Mike Myers

Staff writer

Shang Greathouse has hoped, wished and prayed but the Mississippi River just will not go down due to rainfall here and north of here.

Greathouse, president of the Metro East Sanitary District, said Monday that all of those stormwater pump stations have been going full force since March.

"It doesn't look like we're going to stop pumping until July 4," he said.

As a result, Greathouse said, the MESD is facing a tough year financially.

"I've already warned my people there will be layoffs. There's no way around it — we're going to run out of money," he said.

Water from all of the MESD's drainage ditches can only flow when the river goes by gravity when the Mississippi is below 16 feet.

At 16 feet, most of the smaller stations are starting to pump.

When the river reaches 19 feet, the MESD starts its "big" pump stations like the North Pump Station, which drains Nauvoo Township, Granite City, Madison and Venice, and the South Pump Station, which drains Centreville and Centralia.

"Last year, in April and May, we pumped a total of 23 days. This year, we've pumped every single day and the river still isn't below 20 feet," Greathouse said.

"The river has been above 15 feet in June. This is supposed to be our easy time. But right now (the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers projection) has the river hitting 18 feet on June 30

Voters may decide on health agency

Madison County officials appear ready to support a county health department, but only if voters are willing to pay for it.

County Board member Bob Slatte has decided to round up support for a petition drive that would put the health department question to voters.

"If the voters refuse this, then we're going to have to come out and get it," he said Wednesday after a heated County Board discussion of the proposed drive.

The board took no action on the Slatte proposal, which would encourage members to circulate petitions calling for a referendum.

Under state law, the board has the authority to establish a health department by resolution, but such a move would restrict financing for the new agency to the 1.4-cent Tolls and Roads tax, which generates about $270,000 a year.

Most board members agreed $270,000 would fall far short of the cost of a health department.

The board could implement the Tolls tax with money from the general fund, but officials rejected that idea, saying the general fund, which supports day-to-day operations of the county government, is stretched too thin.

However, if voters agree by referendum to create a health department, the county could implement a new tax.

"That's the only way we can afford this. The general fund just can't support another department," said board member Alvin Dunstan of Troy.

Officials said they do not know what size property tax would be necessary but that state law prohibits imposing more than 10 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Drummer boy

10-year-old is part-time regular with rock band

By Kevin Glenn
Correspondent

Classic rock pounds through the air in a dimly lit club, while laughter rings out from a bachelorette party near the dance floor.

Ten-year-old Bradley Murphy is right at home.

Bradley, of Granite City, plays drums for the Avery Hill Band, which entered a full band recent at Schatz's Bar and Grill, 2301 E. Main, East Alton. In a room filled with lights and patrons three times his age, he knows exactly how to please.

"You say 'Bradley, let's do ZZ Top,' and he says, 'Which one?'" says Sherry Engle, the bassist for Avery Hill.

Bradley has played drums since his band started this past New Year's Eve, sitting in for full-time drummer Kent Miller to play at least three songs a night. His father, the group's guitarist, played with Engle as a teenager, and asked Engle to join him again in the new band — this time with his son as the part-time drummer.

Murphy has allowed Bradley to play previous New Year's Eves with him in a different band. And now Bradley club-hops regularly with the Avery Hill group.

He hangs out his favorite tune, "Wipeout," in the shows, as well as a Jimi Hendrix favorite and other oldies.

The audience offers hearty approval of the pint-sized player.

"Can you believe that kid's only 10?" says someone in the Schatz's crowd.

"He's hell on them drums," adds another.

But Bradley takes it all in stride. After all, he's enjoyed overtime for songs like this since he was 3.

"You couldn't even see him behind the drums," says Mark Murphy, his father and Avery Hill's guitarist. "All you could see was a stick."

His father has taught him what he knows, but insists the boy shows innate talent at the drums at 3. At 5, Bradley was already picking up beats from songs he heard on the radio. "He had time, man, just like a clock," Murphy said.

Although his peers are out playing kickball and riding bikes, Bradley seems to be out drinking a beer in the corner of a bar.

Asked about performing for such a crowd bothers him, he shrugs. "I get a little nervous sometimes," he said.

He quickly adds that he's won the talent show at Mitchell School in Granite City. A fourth-grader, Bradley says his fellow students aren't necessarily impressed by his abilities, but, "most of them want drum lessons."

He says one student came to see him at Charlie's, 5240 Nameoki Road, Granite City, after seeing him perform at the talent show. His drum routine was the show's big finale.

He's 10 years old, but he's one of the best drummers you'll hear in your lifetime, Engle says. "If he was playing bass, I don't know how I'd feel."

Bradley Murphy banging out a tune on the drums with the Avery Hill Band.

Even as the bassist, Engle exits the stage when Bradley steps behind the drums, making the boy the centerpiece of the performance.

"He's a modern-day kid in classic rock times," he says. "If you need a new style like Pearl Jam, he doesn't know where to begin."

Engle says he hopes music will keep Bradley out of drugs and trouble as he grows up. It has for Engle and Mark Murphy. While patrons of the clubs they play at down beers, the band members drink beer.

"Music's kept us off the streets," Engle says.

Well, not literally. The bassist has played with Mark Murphy since he was 13, when they were "pushing amps down the street," because they had no one to drive them to practice.

At Avery Hill, members of the perfect example, Bradley has chosen the perfect role models. When asked what his favorite band is, he replies without hesitation. Pointing toward the stage, he says, "These guys."

Despite bill-killing, some make it through

SPRINGFIELD — Metro East lawmakers have managed to put several measures on the governor's desk this year, despite partisan bill-killing.

House Majority Leader Jim McPike, D-Alton, has steered two bills through to the governor's desk. One would eliminate a required test for nurses receiving their education outside the state.

Applicants would be exempt from the Commission of Graduates of Foreign Nursing Schools if they pass the Department of Professional Regulation's exam, hold an active nursing license from another state and have been a nurse for at least two years.

McPike's second bill would raise the bonding limit on the Illinois Development Finance Authority from $300 million to $350 million.

A bonding bill introduced by House Assistant Minority Leader Tom Ryder, R-Jerseyville, would make it a crime to flee from a police officer in a boat and require youngsters under age 13 to wear life jackets while aboard a boat.

The bill would prohibit boaters from dumping wastes into Illinois waters.

An insurance bill, sponsored by Ryder, would allow judges to prohibit insurance companies while an insurance is liquidating or reorganizing.

As with current law, the driver of insurance would be responsible for settling any claims with the company.

Ryder also sponsored bills that would end one parent's signature on a birth certificate and require those handling job training for the Department of Public Aid to teach "life skills" such as punctuality, appearance and other behavior standards.

Among the bills is a package dealing with crimes and the state.

If signed into law, Hoffman's bills would increase the maximum prison term for second-degree murder from 15 to 20 years, allow judges to require those receiving supervision or probationary sentences to submit to drug testing and require that the time a person spends in prison isn't counted as part of any time limit to make financial restitution to victims.

Another Hoffman bill would bar parental rights to those convicted of first- or second-degree murder of the other parent.

Hoffman also pushed a bill to require 100 racing days of standardbred horses and 125 racing days for thoroughbreds at Fairmount Park each year.

Another crime bill, sponsored by Rep. Ron Stephens, R-Troy, would allow judges to issue a 18 from receiving a drivers license if they were previously convicted of a crime that would have resulted in a loss of license.

Expansion plan may cost $27 million

The Belleville Area College Board of Trustees has approved a master site plan for expansion at all three BAC campuses in Belleville, Granite City and Red Bud.

The board took the action at a special meeting held June 9.

The site plan, developed by Woodmen Consultants, a nationally known construction firm, estimates that short-term expansion projects at the three campuses could cost at least $27 million for construction, and about $7 million for equipment and furnishings.

At its meeting, the board authorized the college to seek state funding to cover about 75 percent of the short-term expansion cost. College officials are optimistic about receiving funding next year from the state for at least one of the campuses. "We will take every step necessary to ensure that there will be no unnecessary expenditures," said BAC President Joseph J. Katch.

He added that the board would only consider a tax increase to fund the projects as a last resort.

The largest expansion project would be at the Belleville Campus and would include:

A new 100,000 square-foot building just north of the existing building to provide space for, among other things, expanded math and science departments, more classrooms and faculty offices, a wing of adult basic education, expanded food services and new restrooms.

Short-term improvements at the Granite City Campus call for a new 57,000 square-foot addition, an enlarged drive, new parking areas and a new courtyard. The new building would house 18 general classrooms and several labs.

and train for a new career. GED students will be starting at BAC this summer to train in the field of Industrial Electronics.

At 73, Cora Santner, of Belleville, was the oldest person in the GED graduation class.

She also had to end her education early because of the problems her family faced during the depression.

Santner graduated from the eighth grade in 1933. She wanted to go on to high school and the superintendent of her school district encouraged her to complete her education.

But her parents needed her at home to help work on their farm near Highland and they could not afford to send her to school anyway.

Though Santner married and raised four children without completing school, she never forgot about the desire to continue her education.

"I always felt I was missing something because I didn't finish school," she said.

Sixty years after leaving school, Santner picked up her GED diploma from BAC.

BAC offers GED classes at the Belleville and Granite City campuses, as well as other locations throughout the Metro East. All classes are free.

Historic slides are sought for calendar

The Illinois Historic Preservation Agency is seeking slides of historic places for the 1994 Historic Illinois Calendar.

The agency, which publishes the calendar, is again conducting a slide contest to choose 13 photographs that will appear in next year's calendar. The slides submitted must be horizontal and must depict state-owned historic sites or sites listed on the National Register of Historic Places. A copy of these sites are available upon request.

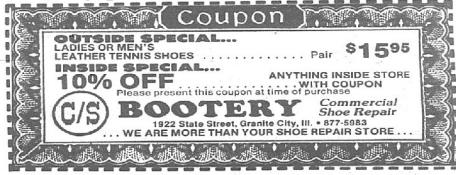

The deadline to submit slides is July 1. Up to 20 slides may be submitted for consideration. Each slide must be labeled with the site's name and location, the photographer's name and telephone number, and the date the slide was taken.

Slides will be returned. Winners will be notified after Sept. 1, and will receive a credit line and 20 free calendars.

Slides and inquiries should be sent to: Historic Illinois Calendar, Illinois Historic Preservation Agency, Old State Capitol, Springfield, Ill. 62701, or phone, 217-785-7950.

The Historic Illinois Calendar has been published since 1984 as a benefit to subscribers of Historic Illinois, the Agency's bimonthly magazine. The magazine is filled with news and historic preservation. Calendars are available to the general public at $5 each, or $3 each for 10 or more.

Area banks rated well

SPRINGFIELD — Most area banks received a satisfactory rating on reinvesting deposits within their communities in a "report card" issued by State Rep. Patrick Quinn.

Quinn issued what he called the first-ever consumer guide to information on banks' loan-to-deposit ratios and their investment in real estate and commercial loans.

The report used various lending statistics to rate banks on their community reinvestment ratios, such as outstanding, satisfactory, needs to improve, unsatisfactory and compliance.

The premise of the report is that bank lending, as opposed to investing in government securities and stocks, stimulates local economies and should be used as a consideration when consumers consider where to deposit their funds.

Boatmen & National Bank of Belleville was the only one in Metro East given an outstanding rating.

For Madison County, Quinn rated 11 of the 16 banks — including First National in Madison — as satisfactory, with no rating for the other five because of insufficient information or because an analysis had not been completed. The five included all others in the Granite City area.

Among those rated satisfactory are Bank of Alton, Bank of Edwardsville, Godfrey State Bank, State Bank of St. Jacob, Hamel State Bank and Clover Leaf Bank of Edwardsville.

Although not rated in the report, Quinn said Mercantile Bank in Alton had the county's largest loan-to-deposit ratio at 88 percent and also made 26 percent of all its loans within the county.

Dairy Queen offers student rewards

New owners at Dairy Queen, 3901 Pontoon Road, have introduced a new program that offers rewards for students for perfect attendance and scholastic achievement. The owners, Robert and Dawn Steen, said that included with elementary school students' report cards will be gift certificates for items at the restaurant.

"I like it because it doesn't only honor the straight-A kids," Dawn said.

The program offers different awards for students who earn one "A" up to a Full Meal Deal for those with straight As. Those who earn an "A" for the first or fourth nine-week attendance period will earn a Value Meal, which includes a ham-burger, french fries and soda.

Hospitals Care About Your Vital Signs. Shouldn't You Care About Theirs?

Nobody likes to ask for money. But the fact is, without your support, it's becoming increasingly difficult for hospitals to upgrade their equipment, services and innovative programs. And, sadly, that means that some much-needed medical care may never reach the people who need it most. So do your part, and take care of your hospital. After all, they do the same for you.

Give To Your Local Hospital. Give To Life.

Senior citizen Elderhostel Program set at SIUE July 11-17

Senior citizens from around the country will converge at Southern Illinois University Edwardsville, spending the week of July 11-17 as part of the Elderhostel Program, a cultural and educational program designed for persons 60 years or older.

Elderhostel permits senior citizens to attend summer non-credit classes at colleges and universities around the country and in other countries for a nominal fee.

While at SIUE, the seniors will attend mini-classes on the "Big Band Era," "Significant Elections in the 20th Century," and "Russia Under and After Gorbachev;" attend the student theater production,

"A Day in Hollywood: A Night in the Ukraine" on campus, visit the Mississippi riverfront; participate in a barbecue picnic at the Tower-Lake Pavilion; attend a "Nostalgia" Band concert and the Edwardsville City Park; and participate in a multitude of other activities.

"The Big Band" concert, directed by Warren Brown, emeritus professor of education at SIUE, will be held Wednesday, July 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the bandstand in the city park. The 12-piece band will play old favorites like "Begin the Beguine," "Tuxedo Junction," "Racing With the Moon," "In The Mood," and other songs popular during the '30s and '40s.

Don Nevin, a baritone from St. Louis and well-known performer in the Alton-Edwardsville area, will be guest vocalist.

Edwardsville priority site for transit center

By Shay Wessol
Staff writer

A proposed transit center in Edwardsville could become a reality within the next year and a half, said the director of the Madison County Transit District.

The $1.3 million Edwardsville facility will take priority over proposed transit centers in Collingsville, Alton, Wood River, Jersey, Kankakee, managing director of the district, said Monday.

Battling its way through the U.S. House Appropriations Committee, one transportation committee bill that marks federal funds for the Edwardsville center. The bill would also provide $600,000 for the initial design and engineering for an "alternative route" to Troy Road.

"It's the best of all possibilities to get an earmark in an appropriations bill," Kane said. "It's the best we could have hoped for."

U.S. Rep. Dick Durbin, D-Springfield, said earlier he expected the bill to be passed by Congress later this summer.

The proposed transit center would be modeled after a recently completed facility in Granite City, including covered walkways, destination signs, waiting rooms and restrooms.

The Edwardsville center would take about a year to construct and district officials hope to have it ready to go in time to draft a preliminary design, Kane said.

While city officials have hinted that they would like to see a proposed transit center built in downtown Edwardsville, the reality just doesn't exist, said Paul McNamara, director of development administration for the city.

"It's not going to take 25 acres or something like that, but it's going to need some area, and it's going to need some parking space," McNamara said.

But officials agree that finding a site for the proposed facility would be premature until funding is official. In fact, if city and Madison County Transit District officials begin drawing up plans for the proposed center, no federal funding would be pulled, Kane said.

Mayor Gary Niebur said the exact location of the transit center would be determined by the transit district. "The city has not been asked or is involved at this point," Niebur said.

Madison County transit officials are also in the process of restructuring current routes to Edwardsville in hopes of upgrading the bus and shuttle service in the area, Kane said.

New routes from Troy and Highland into SIUE and downtown Edwardsville are expected to be added sometime in August, Kane said.

The Troy-to-Edwardsville shuttle, expected to make hourly runs, will go from Troy to Anderson Hospital in Maryville, then on Route 158 through Glen Carbon to Edwardsville's Main Street.

Then, the bus will travel through downtown Edwardsville and on to the SIUE campus, stopping at the Tower Lake Apartments and end at Hairpin Drive.

The Highland-to-Edwardsville shuttle will travel through downtown Highland to Marine to Edwardsville. The shuttle will then follow the same route as the Troy shuttle, ending at the SIUE campus. The Highland shuttle is expected to run every two hours.

Springfield journey — Staff and volunteers of St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City traveled to the state capital for the Illinois Hospital Association's annual Hospital Day. While there, they met with Illinois State Comptroller Dawn Clark Netsch, pictured above, and discussed issues impacting on hospitals throughout Illinois. The Medicaid provider tax on hospitals is one of the key issues to be resolved before the legislature ends its current session.

Svetanics chairman of Bi-State board

The Bi-State Development Agency Board of Commissioners, at its monthly meeting on June 6, elected officers for Fiscal Year 1994, which runs from July 1 through June 30, 1994.

Milton Svetanics Jr. will become chairman; Patricia Watkins, vice chair; Robert Furmanek, treasurer, and Reuben Shelton, secretary. Svetanics and Shelton are Missouri commissioners and Watkins and Furmanek are Illinois commissioners.

Bi-State is empowered through a 1949 compact between the two states which was ratified by Congress and signed by the President of the United States. It has broad powers, including the operation in both states of public transportation.

Church seeks FCC censure of KMOV-TV

By Laura Telander
Staff writer

A KMOV-TV official maintained Friday the station did not violate any federal policies by paying a prostitute to meet with an area priest although the Catholic church filed a formal complaint against the act.

"While we did commit errors of judgment during the course of pursuing this investigation, errors that we deeply regret and have apologized for, we do not believe we are in violation of FCC regulations," said Allan Cohen, KMOV general manager, in a prepared statement. "I can tell you that we will move forward with its strong commitment to maintaining both high journalistic standards as well as its long-standing relationship with the community."

Bishop James K. Keleher of the Belleville Diocese and Edward O'Donnell, archdiocesan administrator of the Archdiocese of St. Louis, asked the Federal Communications Commission Wednesday to censure KMOV-TV/Channel 4 and its parent broadcasting Group, the owner of the St. Louis stations.

The basis for their complaint concerns what we believe to be a 'creation' or 'staging' of news by KMOV-TV," wrote Keleher and O'Donnell in a letter to the FCC. "KMOV-TV is great in its ability to promote, stage and record an act of prostitution."

The complaint is based on an article in the June 9 St. Louis Post-Dispatch that alleges the station paid for a male prostitute to come to St. Louis to meet with a Catholic priest from the Belleville Diocese. The station said it was hoping to get additional information about sexual activities within the Belleville Diocese. The story never aired.

St. priests within the Belleville Diocese have been removed from their parishes after similar allegations of sexual misconduct. The priests were investigated by a review board that will determine the validity of the allegations.

"If the media is allowed to create news by promoting and staging illegal acts, then the public will no longer be able to rely on the media to provide truthful and informative news," the complaint said. "As evidenced by the newspaper reports in the Post-Dispatch, including admissions by employees of KMOV-TV and its parent broadcasting group, KMOV-TV stages a story and promoted an illegal act, and therefore clearly violated the 'character' aspect of the Federal Communications Act, in addition to violating the public's trust. St. Louis Circuit Attorney Dee Joyce-Hayes is investigating the incident and has issued subpoenas to the station."

Haack named liaison at Defense Command

Brig. Gen. John R. Haack, formerly of Granite City, who completed his tour as commander of the 102nd Fighter Wing on March 15, has begun a new assignment as Air National Guard special assistant to Gen. Charles Horner.

Gen. Horner is commander, U.S. Space Command and North American Aerospace Defense Command (NORAD), at Peterson Air Force Base, Colo.

Gen. Haack will serve as liaison between Gen. Horner and Gen. Philip G. Hayley, director of the Air National Guard, regarding Air Defense and Space Command matters affecting the Air Guard.

He stepped down from his full-time position as commander of the Air Technician Detachment at Otis Air Force Base during May.

Haack served 23 years in the 102nd (fifty and more than 30 years in the Air Force and Guard. "The memories are many and fond," he said. "There is no morale in the military any better than the men and women of the 102nd."

Haack's military career began with his commissioning as a lieutenant through the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps in 1963. He completed undergraduate pilot training at Laughlin Air Force Base, Texas, graduating number one in his class and earning the Flying Trophy and the Academic Training Trophy. He was also an Air Training Command distinguished graduate.

A native of Granite City, he was valedictorian of his high school class and earned a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering from St. Louis University in 1963, graduating summa cum laude and first in his class.

In 1975, he earned a master's degree in business administration from Northeastern University, Boston, ranking first in his class with a 4.0 grade point average.

Haack flew 100 combat missions over North Vietnam in the F-105 from December 1966 through July 1967. He was then assigned to the 4532nd Combat Crew Training Squadron, 1st Special Operations Wing, Tyndall AFB, Fla., serving as an instructor pilot for both U.S. Air Force and Republic of Vietnam commando pilots, flying the A-37.

He completed active duty in December 1969 and entered private industry as a pilot for Eastern Airlines. He joined the Air Force Reserve in 1973 at AFB, Mich., in the 27th 1970, flying the U-3A with the 27th Tactical Airfield Squadron.

In April 1986, Haack was appointed to the vice commander and the following September he was named commander. He was promoted to brigadier general on Sept. 29, 1987. In May 1988, he completed the Command Training at Tyndall AFB, Fla.

Haack is a member of the Combat Air Reserve Forces Policy Advisory Council and in 1989 was named chairman of the Air Directorate Field Advisory Council.

His decorations include the Distinguished Flying Cross with two oak leaf clusters, the Meritorious Service Medal, the Air Medal with 22 oak leaf clusters, Air Force Commendation Medal, Presidential Unit Citation with two oak leaf clusters, Air Force Outstanding Unit Award with two oak leaf clusters, Combat Readiness Medal with five oak leaf clusters, Organizational Excellence Award and National Defense Service Medal.

Gen. Haack and his wife, Kathleen, have a daughter, Karen, and a son, Paul.

Up With People seeks host families

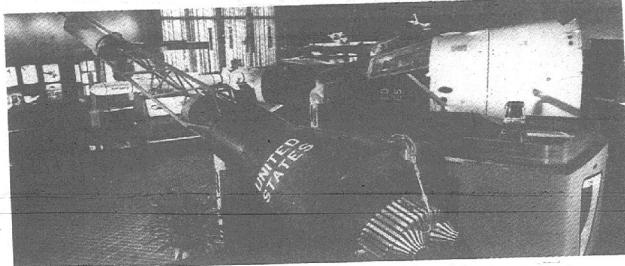

Up With People, which has showcased some of the most talented young entertainers in a span of four decades, needs host families for their June 27 appearance at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, according to Rich Walker, coordinator of the event for the university.

"This is a group of young people will be arriving Saturday, June 27, in Edwardsville and needs host families for the entire cast of 145 students from around the world," Walker said.

"The responsibilities of hosting a guest for each student, morning and evening transportation to SIUE, dinner on Saturday night, breakfast on Sunday and Monday mornings, and a sack lunch for the Monday bus trip. Host families also receive two complimentary tickets to the show."

The two-hour nonstop musical event, "World in Motion," is sponsored by the Edwardsville Intelligencer, and will be staged in the SIUE Vadalabene Center gymnasium. Co-sponsors are the SIUE University Theater and SIUE's Arts & Issues series.

Admission is $7; seniors and students, $5; children under 10 years of age, $3. Group tickets are also available.

Uncertainty abounds in Clinton tax hike plan

By Roger McGrath
Correspondent

Stockbroker George Peters knows a sure thing when he sees one. And the senior vice president of Dean Witter is convinced that the sure thing is up.

The bite those taxes — which are needed to cut the federal government's annual budget deficit, according to the politicos in Washington, D.C. — will take out of family budgets is less clear.

In selling his deficit-fighting tax increases to the country, President Bush has predicted the average family will pay an extra $1 per month next year, $7 per month the following year and $17 per month thereafter.

According to the federal budget submitted to Congress, income tax collections for the 1993 fiscal year will be up 10.3 percent. Social Security revenues 35.4 percent, excise tax collections 81.4 percent, estate and gift taxes 51.4 percent and customs duties 44.8 percent.

Here's another nugget from the president's budget document: The federal government's annual deficit will never dip below $200 billion again.

Clinton's plan calls for 74 percent of the tax increases to be paid by families earning $100,000 and more. The Congressional Budget Office estimates membership of this exclusive club at 5.8 million families.

Clinton's plan figures a 36 percent tax bracket would raise will be wiped out.

Tax avoidance articles already have appeared in most major business and personal finance magazines. The J.K. Lasser Institute, author of personal income tax guides, has published a 132-page book of tax-saving tips.

The Clinton plan calls for 74 percent of the tax increases to be paid by families earning $100,000 and more. The Congressional Budget Office estimates membership of this exclusive club at 5.8 million families.

Clinton's faith in his deficit plan remains unshaken.

"The more people know about the details of the package, the more likely they are to support it," he said recently.

Clinton's analysis that the average family, which earns about $40,000 — will pay an extra $17 a month. This $40,000 includes more than gross annual wages, it is family economic income — a tally that includes the value of fringe benefits, investments, life insurance policies, even the rental value of the family home.

Strawberries taste best picked at peak of harvest, frozen quickly

(The following article is provided by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service.)

Fresh strawberries won't keep long in the refrigerator, so the freezer is a good storage place. It takes little time and effort to prepare strawberries for the freezer.

To preserve that fresh taste of ripe strawberries, freeze them at the peak of harvest. Pick strawberries when ripe because underripe berries may taste bitter after freezing.

"Wash the berries in cold water, handling them gently to avoid bruising. Rinse berries and do not allow them to soak, or the nutrients can leach out into the water."

"Next, sort out the best berries and discard blemished ones. Hull the strawberries, then slice them or leave them whole."

Miniature roses are enjoyable to grow

By Robert J. Dingwall
Correspondent

"Roses are doing very well this spring after a mild winter. As of May 1, my garden is a glorious array of colors which it has not had for several years."

"Miniature roses with capture your heart when you first start to grow them. They come in a wide variety of colors and make excellent cut flower material for indoor arrangements. They like an area that is well-drained and in sun for at least four hours daily."

"If drainage is a problem you can grow them in a raised bed. They are excellent when in beds by themselves or are featured in front of taller floribundas and hybrid teas."

"Miniature roses need the same care as other roses. Prepare soil well and add extra organic matter and superphosphate just prior to planting. Plants may be purchased as bare root or often may be found as potted specimens which can be set out as long as plants are available. They will grow from about 15 to 20 inches tall and will flower well throughout the growing season."

"I like to feed roses with 1 tablespoon at planting time and repeat at the first and second pruning in summer. Liquid feedings of a balanced fertilizer should be made at regular intervals to keep them growing actively but not too often. If plants are not pruned off properly for winter, miniatures may be susceptible to mildew and black spot, so they need regular spraying to control these problems. Use a good fungicide or recommended at this point, strawberries are almost ready for freezing, but not quite. If berries are not treated with an acidic or sugar substance before freezing, they will turn brown. Some people prefer to sweeten the berries before freezing.

For pre-treatment and sweetening, there are several options.

One option is to cover the berries with a syrup mixture of three cups of sugar dissolved in four cups of boiling water. Allow half to two hours for sugar to dissolve.

Another option is to add two-thirds cup of sugar directly to one quart of strawberries and mix gently until juice is drawn from the fruit and the sugar is dissolved.

A final method for treating strawberries is to cover berries with water containing one teaspoon of ascorbic acid to each quart of water.

Ascorbic acid is available in several forms from drug stores and some grocery stores that sell dried fruits and canning supplies. Crystalline ascorbic acid dissolves more easily in liquids than powder or tablet forms. Follow the manufacturer's directions when using these products.

Pack strawberries in containers, leaving 1 1/2 inches of headspace so that the liquid has room to expand.

Although frozen berries will not be as firm as fresh berries, they can still be used in strawberry shortcake or to complement ice cream or other desserts. For the best taste and texture, serve strawberries partially thawed with a few remaining crystals.

The quality of strawberries is best if stored in the freezer up to 12 months.

rose spray.

Miniature roses are very hardy so after the first heavy frost apply a light mulch around each plant.

Precautions make outdoor summer fun safer

By Jane Cosby
Correspondent

With summertime already officially begun and the days getting only just a few days away, this is a good time to sound a warning on outdoor activities.

This season of outdoor fun and accidents can be a season for accidents in which children can be permanently or fatally injured.

The American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) offers parents and frightening statistics and excellent advice on outdoor safety.

• All bike riders should wear a helmet.

Less than 5 percent of all child bicyclists wear helmets. Wearing a helmet can reduce the risk of brain and head injury by 38 percent.

• Children who use skateboards should wear helmets and protective padding to prevent injuries.

In 1989, more than 65,000 people needed emergency room treatment for skateboard-related accidents. Children younger than age 14 accounted for 70 percent of those injuries.

• Attend a public fireworks display instead of purchasing fireworks for home use.

Each year, more than 12,000 people require hospital treatment for fireworks-related injuries. More than half of them are children. Children younger than age 12 should not operate walk-behind mowers and children younger than age 14 should not operate riding mowers.

Each year, nearly 10,000 children younger than age 15 are injured by lawn mowers. Injuries include deep cuts, loss of fingers and toes, broken and dislocated bones and even injuries from flying stones.

Swimming pools should be surrounded by a fence with a gate that has a self-closing latch so that children can't open it. If possible, delay installing a home swimming pool until your children are 5 years old or older.

• Add up to 20 percent of all children who are hospitalized for near drowning sustain severe, permanent brain damage.

• The surface beneath your child's outdoor play equipment should be safe. Sand (10 inches deep), wood chips (12 inches deep) or outdoor rubber mats will protect your child from serious head injury in case of a fall.

In 1989, about 200,000 children under age 15 were treated in emergency rooms for playground-related injuries.

• If you will be serving hotdogs at your cookouts this summer, do not give them to a child younger than age 4 without slicing them lengthwise and across.

More than 300 children a year die as a result of choking. Food is responsible for most of the incidents.

Everyone who rides in a car should be belted in, either in a seat belt or a child restraint seat.

Traffic accidents are the No. 1 cause of death for every age group from age 6 through 33. In a 1981 survey, only 28 percent of high school students said they always used seat belts. In a car at 30 mph, a person weighing 100 pounds infant would be ripped from a belted adult's arms with a force of almost 200 pounds.

Enforcing safety rules is a thankless job, but somebody in your family has to do it.

Competitiveness Tour today at BAC

Education and industry will come together on Wednesday, June 23, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., when Belleville Area College's Business Assistance Center hosts the 1993 Summer Competitiveness Tour at the Belleville Campus, 2500 Carlyle Road.

Sponsored by the Illinois Center for Competitive Manufacturing, located in the University of Illinois, the tour will give participants the chance to learn about the variety of programs offered by the ICM and BAC's Business Assistance Center in support of Illinois industry. Participants also will learn how the latest in library technology can help manufacturing obtain information more easily.

The tour will be held in the 35,000-square-foot ICM/Mobile Manufacturing Laboratory, which will be parked at the BAC Campus.

Hess joins St. Louis law firm

Lewis, Rice and Fingersh, a St. Louis law firm, has announced that Frederick J. Hess, formerly the U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of Illinois, will join the firm as a partner. Hess will practice in the areas of civil, commercial, criminal and environmental litigation and will be in the Belleville office of Lewis, Rice.

Hess held the U.S. Attorney post from 1982 to 1989 where he was chief legal counsel for the United States Marshals Service, an assistant United States Attorney for the now abolished Eastern District of Illinois until he was appointed as United States Attorney in 1977. In addition to criminal law enforcement, Hess' counsel to federal agencies include defense of Medical Malpractice, United States Air Force Hospital Arbitrations and Veterans Administration Appeals, and other actions under the Federal Tort Claims Act.

Hess graduated from St. Louis University with a bachelor's degree in History and Political Science in 1963 and a Juris Doctorate from Washburn University School of Law in 1971. He is a Secretary of the National Association of Former United States Attorneys Association as well as a Fellow in the American Bar Association and the Illinois Bar Foundation. He was formerly an assistant attorney general for Illinois, a special states attorney and a federal defender panel attorney. Hess served seven years on the Department of Justice Law Enforcement Coordination Subcommittee, three years on the DOJ Environmental Law Subcommittee and three years as an advisor to the Attorney General of the United States.

Greyhounds

Great Racers at an Early Age,
Great Pets for a Lifetime!

FRANK'S® NURSERY & CRAFTS

Where Beautiful Things Begin

Have you ever seen a real live greyhound? Chances are you haven't, unless you've spent some time at the dog races. If you've seen them, you know what sleek, beautiful creatures they are. If not, get ready for a treat. You're going to get the chance to meet some, live and up close!

First, however, there are a few facts about these animals that you probably weren't aware of. They're known for speed, obviously. Greyhounds can attain speeds of up to 45 miles per hour, making them very popular with dog owners during their racing days. Unfortunately, the careers of racing greyhounds are quite short, averaging about two years. What happens to them after their days at the track are over? That's the sad part of the story.

The Humane Society estimates that each year up to 50,000 greyhounds that are no longer needed by the racing industry are destroyed. Until recently, death was the only option for the poor animals.

Now, thanks to organizations like REGAP (Retired Greyhounds as Pets), and the growing number of people adopting greyhounds, some of the dogs are getting a new lease on life.

REGAP is a not-for-profit organization, and is not associated with the racing industry. It was founded by Jacqueline Schneipf and her husband, Veterinarian Dr. Dale Schneipf of Waterloo, Iowa. Dr. Schneipf had first agreed to euthanize retired racing dogs in the Waterloo area. In just a few weeks, after destroying 15 greyhounds, Dr. Schneipf was becoming increasingly disgusted by what he was doing. "I didn't go to school to kill healthy dogs," says Schneipf.

He and his wife discussed the situation and decided that there would be no more killing. They continued to accept the unwanted greyhounds, but told the trainers that instead of killing the dogs, they would find homes for them. The couple has since enlisted volunteers in different cities, including St. Louis, to help them in their effort.

Greyhounds make ideal house pets because they are gentle and trained not to bark. "They present all the advantages of a grown dog with the inquisitiveness of a puppy," says one greyhound adopter. "It's fun watching them because they've never been in a house before a carpet. They've never gone up a stair and never ridden in a car. I gave my dog a beef bone and he didn't know what to do with it!"

Greyhounds are friendly, affectionate dogs that thrive on attention and human companionship and once they get used to their new homes, make terrific pets. They possess a calm, gentle nature and are quite intelligent.

REGAP's goal is to ensure that every greyhound reaches its natural life expectancy of 12 to 15 years. To be sure that each one is received into a loving home, every potential adopter is interviewed very carefully prior to adoption.

Now that you've learned something about greyhounds, you'd probably like to meet some. They'll be at Frank's Nursery and Crafts, 15031 Manchester Road, on Saturday, June 26th from noon to 3 pm.

If you're interested in adopting a greyhound, or even if you're just curious about the breed and want to see them up close, by all means bring your family and come meet these docile, delightful animals.

Energy aid grant awarded

The Forty Club, a local group dedicated to helping low-income families stay warm and control their utility bills, has received a $10,000 Warm Neighbors grant from the Energy Assistance Foundation.

This is the second $10,000 grant awarded by the Forty Club since it was organized in August 1992. The Forty Club assists homeowners in most of Madison County and parts of St. Clair County.

"The Forty Club is a group of volunteers committed to the same goals as the Warm Neighbors program," said Ed Hollingshead, executive director of the Energy Assistance Foundation. "In less than a year, they've weatherized the homes of 20 needy families."

A home weatherization project can include replacement of storm windows and doors, caulking and sealing of windows, new insulation, or any number of energy-efficient improvements.

The Warm Neighbors Program uses contributions from Illinois Power customers and a $100,000 annual donation from the company to assist families with home weatherization and payment of heating bills.

Illinois Power is a non-profit organization founded in 1982 with a $250,000 grant from Illinois Power. Since that time, the foundation has weatherized more than 1,300 homes and helped pay heating bills for more than 4,900 families.

For more information on how to apply for Warm Neighbors home weatherization assistance, call Bud Graham, director of the Forty Club, at 667-2608.

For more information on how to participate in Warm Neighbors, call the Illinois Power 24-hour Customer Center at 1-800-755-5000.

APA to benefit from special event

The Association for the Protection of Animals in Granite City will be the beneficiary of a special event sponsored by PetCare Superstores.

Each of the store's four locations will hold pet celebrations from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. with games, giveaways, hamster and guinea pig races, and a Purina petting zoo.

For each person who attends the event, the APA will receive one pound of ProPlan dog food. Plus, all the proceeds of the day's events and games will go to the APA, a no-kill shelter in Granite City.

Shoppers are welcome at the superstore for the event. Each store has its own schedule of events.

For information on the schedules, persons may call the Fairview Heights store at 632-8987, Florissant (314) 830-0601, Ballwin (314) 391-2220, or St. Peters (314) 962-2200.

The APA is also holding a pet photo contest. Winning pets will be featured on the association's calendar.

For more information, persons may call the APA at 931-7030.

Ten get teacher scholarships

Teacher Special Education Scholarships have been awarded to 10 students in Madison County. Nineteen applications were submitted to the Madison County Board of Education by Harry A. Briggs, regional superintendent of schools in Madison County.

Out of the 250 issued statewide under Section 30 of the Illinois School Code on the basis of composite ACT scores, a total of 10 were issued in Madison County.

The recipients and non-recipients have been notified. Applicants are required to certify they will train in the field of special education teaching and will teach in the schools of Illinois for at least two of the five years immediately following graduation. Applicants not receiving a scholarship at this time will remain eligible if any are received.

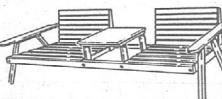

Local scholarship recipients are: Pamela Tyler, Belleville High School; Melanie Mcowan, Marquette High School; Michelle Knox, Jennifer Turck and Heather Sander, Granite City High School.

THERESA MONTANA SAYS
THE ARRANGEMENT SHE MADE WITH THE YELLOW PAGES IS ONE OF HER BEST YET.

Theresa Montana, president & co-owner of City Scents Florists, Chicago, IL

It's a thing of beauty. Customers walking into your store saying they were drawn there by an ad you ran.

Theresa Montana, and her husband Pat, have seen this time and again since opening their doors in 1989. The same time they started advertising in the Ameritech PagesPlus.[®] The Yellow Pages.

"To be honest, I didn't believe in the Yellow Pages at first," says Theresa. "I asked Pat, can we really afford it? But so many customers come to us through the Yellow Pages, I'm a true believer. We made the right decision."

The secret of Theresa's Yellow Pages success?

"Like with flowers, presentation, presentation, presentation. We've increased the size of our ads each year. You have to be eye-catching to stand out. The way they're designed and positioned on the page, you can really make 'em pop."

The Yellow Pages are attractive in other ways as well. Fact is, 82.4% of businesses surveyed say the Yellow Pages reach customers other forms of advertising do not.

To help your business grow like the Montanas, just call DonTech, publisher of the Ameritech PagesPlus,[®] at 1-800-252-8932. A local area rep will be glad to help you design your ad and plan your budget.

"Folks are always coming in joking, 'Hey, is business blooming?' Well, because of the Yellow Pages, we're always able to say yes. It's a great investment."

GUARANTEED!

For every product we sell, we'll beat any legitimate price from a local store stocking the same new item in a factory-sealed box. Even after your purchase, if you find a lower price within 30 days, including our own sale prices, we'll refund 110% of the difference. With Circuit City's volume buying advantage, comparisons of some exclusive Circuit City brands and models may not be possible.

What do more than 20,000 square dancers do at a convention? They clance and dance and then they dance some more — which certainly makes them hungry. They will click their heels in rounds, square up and square down at the National Square Dance Convention, which runs — and also closes — through Saturday at the Centenarius Convention Center.

At least 500 square dance groups are using 20 different rooms at the convention center.

I've been told square dancing is about the same as playing racquetball in how strenuous it is.

She and her husband, Bob, are general chairmen of the convention. After a couple years' work luring the convention, the St. Louis contingent received appropriate recognition.

The last convention in St. Louis was held at Kiel Auditorium in 1977.

The square dancers will come in their boomer skirts, the cloggers will be ready to dance in short fluffy skirts, while the contra dancers will wear their prairie skirts and the men will pack as many ties as they own for the event.

The St. Louis area has 50 clubs, including the Swingin' Singles. While the image of square dancing includes couples, about 13 percent of those attending the convention have registered as singles.

You can dance all seven nights a week and even Sunday afternoon here. Each club often has a workshop during the week. Many people belong to two clubs.

All that dancing works up a powerful appetite.

Many clubs celebrate their dance with homemade foods served potluck-style with a theme, like chili, pie or appetizer night. Those groups that do not bring food to the potluck will then go out to eat together afterwards.

"Even if you do dance, you put on weight," Fleher says.

Debby Wittman, who heads publicity for the convention with her husband Raymond, took to square dancing 14 years ago.

"Four years ago my husband and I became publicity heads and we don't dance anymore. We miss that part. The more you eat like that, you get so hungry," she says.

Because the potlucks are as integral to the groups as dancing, the sponsors put together a cookbook of homegrown recipes from the three states involved in St. Louis, Kansas City and Missouri. Lillian Schuttenberg and her committee chose a wide selection of recipes from a field of more than 900 that came by mail, by hand and Federal, instead of pony — Expresso to the deadline. These are samples that reflect the western image of the dancers.

To order a "Gateway to Good Eating" cookbook, mail a check for $10, which includes $2 for shipping and handling, to Lillian Schuttenberg, 825 Washington St., St. Charles, Mo., 63301. Make the check payable to the 42nd National Square Dance Convention.

The Happy Tappers will dance for the public at 5:45 p.m. today outdoors at the Congress Plaza Hotel Convention Center as part of the opening ceremony. There will be a demonstration from 4 to 4:30 p.m.

Thursday and from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday at the train shed at Union Station.

Square dance callers Ron McCravy of O'Fallon, Mo., dish out a bowl of Irene's Chili to square dancers, from left, Mary McCravy of O'Fallon, Lillian Schuttenberg of St. Charles and Pauline Nocifora of Ballwin. The chili and other dishes they are about to enjoy — Buffalo Chips, Fast and EZ Tex-Mex Spread and Green Enchiladas — are among the recipes featured in the 42nd National Square Dance Convention's "Gateway to Good Eating" cookbook. McCravy's wife, Mary, illustrated the cookbook; Schuttenberg directed the cookbook project and Nocifora is vice chairman of the convention's ways and means committee.

Country and western dancing has moseyed down the country to the city. So has the food that feeds it. When it comes to food of the New West, bison burger sounds as appetizing today as did to cowboys of the Old West, although there may be different reasons.

Food's a big country and western dance halls vary in price. There is the basic barbecue-style fare, as well as Tex-Mex and burger specialties.

The Silvermoor, in Collinsville, Ill., has made bison its specialty.

"We're getting rave reviews about that," says Betty Wilson, one of the owners. "It is very, very low in cholesterol, very lean, very distinctive in taste but not wild. One of our customers called it a fresher, cleaner taste."

The Silvermoor, a dance hall, cafe and Western store, opened June 1.

Wilson and her husband, Gerald, brought the serving idea back from a two-week trip to Wyoming. Bison steaks are broiled, ribs receive a barbecue treatment in a pressurized smoker and the burgers are served on whole wheat buns. Most of these halls specialize in barbecue, their value-based food as they do to the direction of their line dances.

Dancers at the Cactus Moon in Hazelwood stampede for a variety of buffets — including Tex-Mex, fried chicken, sirloin, chicken breast and prime steak.

Concessions by the line also offers individual menu items. There is no charge for the Full-Moon Hamburger Challenge, a 4-pound hamburger, if eaten within an hour. Jack

KICK IT UP

Burks, operations supervisor, says there are one or two takers a week — but by mid-June no one had gotten it free.

"We consider this real basic 'heart of America' type food," Burks says. "We try to be a little different, but this is more family style food, with lots of side dishes that vary with what is offered."

One huge success is a Friday night special: 30 feet of make-your-own ingredients for tacos, fajitas, tostadas and nachos.

"People come early to eat," he says. "The buffet starts at 5 p.m. Most people eat and when dance lessons start at 6, they are out on the dance floor working it off."

George's is located on the 40th and 41st floors of the St. Louis County Relies on an open flame to give dancers and diners a taste of two-stepping. Ribs receive four hours of preparation to make them extremely tender, while chicken wings have an appealing amount of heat.

McCravy's, located in St. Peters is still being put together, but there are lots of takers in leather boots for fare that includes rib eye steaks marinated a couple hours in Italian dressing, then grilled and sauced with a mixture of A-1 and Heinz 57 steak sauces, said Shirley Dotson, the manager.

One of the new finger-food favorites is "poppers," jalapeno poppers filled with cheese, breaded and deep-fried.

Mark Jo Hill, cafe manager at the Silvermoor, has some hints from her kitchen for satisfying hungry cowboys and cowgirls:

"A house specialty is Onion Blossom Spread, a whole onion that is to look like a flower, filled with jalapenos and breaded for sharing with a friend. It is breaded and fried, then served for dipping petal-by-petal in a creamy herb or honey Dijon dressing. She makes the herb dressing by combining mayonnaise, herbs, onions, jalapenos, etc. She adds other seasonings, including parsley and lots of chives and onions, which she says gives the punch of a spicy ranch dressing."

"She serves rib eye steak sandwiches on grilled sourdough bread."

Because much grilling is done indoors, she basis with barbecue sauce only the last 10 to 15 minutes. To enhance the flavor, she rubs ribs with garlic, red pepper and other seasonings of choice before grilling.

George's still recommends dipping a simple recipe and cooking the mix together. She essentially uses a spicy mixture, mostly chili powder and red, white and black peppers.

"Her spicy homemade salsa comes from canned tomatoes. She mixes whole peeled tomatoes with sliced jalapeno, plus onion in a blender."

BUFFALO CHIPS

1 lb. margarine
2 lb. dark brown sugar
2 cups granulated sugar
4 eggs, beaten
2 tsp. vanilla
4 cups flour
2 tsp. baking powder
2 tsp. baking soda
2 cups chopped nuts, any kind
2 cups quick-cooking oats, uncooked
2 cups crushed cornflakes
1 pkg. (6 oz.) chocolate chips
1 pkg. (6 oz.) butterscotch chips

Preheat oven to 350°. In very large bowl, cream margarine, brown and granulated sugars. Mix well. Add eggs and vanilla. Mix well. Add flour, baking powder, baking soda, nuts, oats, cornflakes, chocolate chips and butter-coconut chips. Mix well.

Drop by ice cream scoop or 1/2-cup measuring cup on ungreased cookie sheet. Put only 5 or 6 on a sheet, because they spread 4 to 5 inches. Bake in preheated oven 15 minutes.

From Irene's Food, Buffalo Chips cookies delect at a "hard times" dance at the Jersey County Grand Squares in Greenfield, Ill.

IRENE'S CHILI

1 lb. ground beef
Salt, if desired
1 tbsp. Chili-O seasoning mix
1 can (16 oz.) red kidney beans
1 can (16 oz.) stewed or peeled tomatoes
1/2 lb. uncooked spaghetti
Chopped celery or green bell pepper, if desired

Cook spaghetti according to package directions. Drain. Brown ground beef with chili mix until browned. Drain. Add kidney beans, tomatoes and water. Cook about 20 minutes. Add spaghetti.

From Irene Rodehous, Kirkwood, First Capitol Squares.

FAST AND EZ TEX-MEX SPREAD

1 can (31 oz.) refried beans
1 tsp. pepper sauce
1 pkg. (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup (4 oz.) sour cream
1 tomato, chopped
1/2 cup sliced ripe olives
1 cup (4 oz.) shredded sharp cheddar cheese
1 pkg. tortilla chips

In small saucepan, heat beans until hot. Add pepper sauce. Stir well. Cool. On small foil-covered cookie sheet, shape refried beans into oval mound. Spread sour cream over beans. Top with cheese and tomato. Cover with olives. Mince well.

Before serving, sprinkle tomato over mound, then sliced ripe olives and cheddar cheese. Optional ingredients include chopped green olives and pimento or 4 green onions sliced. Surround with chips.

From Pattie C. Atkinson, Raytown, Gem SCS.

GREEN ENCHILADAS

2 lb. lean ground beef
1 medium onion, chopped
3 cups (12 oz.) grated cheddar cheese
2 cans (16 oz. each) cream of chicken soup
1 can (12 oz.) evaporated milk
2 cans (4 oz.) chopped green chilies
1 lb. shredded Mexican-flavored cheese
2 pkg. flour tortillas

Preheat oven to 350°. Lightly grease rectangular baking pan.

Brown ground beef and onion. Drain. Add cheddar cheese. Heat cheese until melted. In large bowl, mix soup, milk and chilies. Heat and mix well.

Warm tortillas as directed on package. Fill each tortilla with meat mixture. Place in prepared pan. Pour cheese mixture over tortillas. Sprinkle with additional cheese. Bake in preheated oven 20 to 30 minutes until warm throughout.

Summer ripe for eating fruits, vegetables

By Kathy Hanewinkel
Home economist

Even though I teach students how to eat well, my parent in me realizes what a joy it is a challenge summer can be when my children should eat lots of readily-available, fresh fruits and vegetables. June starts the season right as we have Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Month.

Nutritionists predict that in the future — if they get their point across to us — meat-loving Americans will plan meals around the carbohydrates-needed vegetables and fruits the way we now plan it around meats.

If my students are an indication, that is not the way the future. When we held a vegetable lab in foods class last month, the only vegetable they were interested in cooking was a potato — specifically french fries. Maybe they would eat corn on the cob, but cook and try something new? No, thanks.

We studied fruits and vegetables the entire month, however. We took them separately, because the Food Pyramid splits them into separate groups, while the old Food Guide grouped them together.

A vegetable is defined as an edible part of a plant. This definition encompasses fruits, but fruits differ somewhat. They are the part of the plant coming from the soil that contains the seeds and its surrounding flesh.

Fruits differ in other ways, too. They are higher in sugar content (sweetness) and lower in their complex carbohydrates. Fruits also contain more water than vegetables. Fruits also generally have a higher water content.

With greater scientific knowledge about the effects of food on health, there has been a broader design for fruits and vegetables. Under the old guide, two years ago the U.S. Department of Agriculture recommended that a total of four servings of fruits and vegetables a day was adequate.

Today the Food Guide Pyramid suggests two to four servings of fruits and three to five servings of vegetables. Following that lead can change the looks of our plate of food.

Fruits and vegetables are high in carbohydrates, a prime source of energy that the body can use easily. They are also high in fiber, a substance often lacking in processed foods, that helps clean the digestive track and is believed to help prevent colitis and colon-rectal cancers.

The best way to cook these foods — high in water content — is to steam them quickly with little or no liquid added. The microwave is perfect for the task.

Microwaving — even though it cooks on full power — helps retain their color, flavor, shape, texture, and nutrients. When microwaving, it is best to arrange larger, denser pieces to the outside, leaving a ring or circular shape if possible. Cover tightly with plastic wrap or a lid to trap steam and increase efficiency of time cooking.

There is a valuable recipe that my teenage students said that they would eat — or at least try. They did eat it. There were some leftovers, but the next day they remembered the leftover and finished them, too. The cauliflower can be served as a whole head or cut in flowerets.

Sauced-up cauliflower

1 medium head cauliflower
1 1/2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms
1/2 cup (4 oz.) sliced mushrooms
3 tbsp. chopped green bell pepper
3 tbsp. chopped red bell pepper

2 tbsp. butter or margarine
2 tbsp. flour
1 cup milk
1 cup (8 oz.) shredded American cheese

1 tsp. prepared mustard
1/2 tsp. chopped fresh parsley
Wash whole head cauliflower tightly in plastic, cut in flowerets and place in bowl, covered with plastic wrap. Cook on full power for 10 minutes. Cook for 6 to 8 minutes for flowerets until tender-crisp. Let stand, covered, until cool. Sprinkle with parsley.

Yields 6 to 8 servings.

Make light work of summer with quick-cooking seafood

The last place you want to be on a beautiful, warm summer day is in the kitchen preparing meals. There is one good reason to include lots of fish in summer menu planning.

Although fish is often listed as "fast food," it qualifies easily because it can be prepared and cooked in minutes.

The best guideline for fish preparation is to cook the fish a mere 10 minutes per inch of thickness, or the thickest point. A 1 1/2-inch fillet cooks in 15 minutes. Canned fish, such as tuna or salmon, is just a spin of the can.

Fish is high in protein but typically low in saturated fat. It also provides some B vitamins and minerals, such as calcium, potassium, iron and zinc. Many types of fish are rich in omega-3 fatty acids, which researchers say help lower levels of harmful cholesterol in the blood and which may reduce cancer risk as well.

Fish has hearty flavor in summer salad. Scatter a few shrimp over crisp greens and combine it with vegetables, fruit, pasta or rice. The bounty of the sea makes light and nutritious salad meals. Try crab or imitation crab salad, or cucumber, radish and onions on top of romaine lettuce, sprinkled with red wine vinegar.

Grilling fish is a wonderful way to keep the kitchen for the call of the outdoors. Marinate fish in citrus juices, wine or soy sauce to add flavor and moisture. Make fish kabobs and add a variety of fine texture and lots of favorite fruits and vegetables. Another way to cook it is to wrap fish, vegetables and seasonings in foil without any added fat or oil, moist, well-blended melange of flavors.

A variety of tasty recipes are featured in the summer volume of the cookbook series, "An Ounce of Prevention." The order, send $6 to American Institute for Cancer Research, Department CB3, Washington, D.C. 20009.

Fresh vegetables with Salmon is simple to prepare and uses a variety of fresh vegetables.

Fresh vegetables

1 lb. salmon
6 hard-cooked eggs (for less fat content, use white only)
6 cups spinach leaves
1 can (15.5 oz.) red salmon
6 ribs celery
3 medium tomatoes
3 large carrots
3 cups broccoli florets
1 1/2 cups cauli-florets
1/2 cup sliced bell pepper
2 tbsp. chopped fresh parsley
Nonfat salad dressing

While eggs cook, clean vegetables. Divide salad between 6 individual dinner plates.

Put salmon in small bowl and crush any bones. Divide into 6 servings and place a mound of spinach and tomato on each plate. Cut each rib of celery in 4 slices and arrange around salmon. Cut tomatoes in wedges and carrots in sticks. Cut hard-cooked eggs in quarters, removing yolks if desired.

Arrange vegetables and eggs around salmon, distributing equally. Garnish plates with parsley. Serve with dressing on the side.

Salad servings, 338 calories and 12 g fat (7 g fat without egg yolks) each.

Registered dietitian Karen Collins reviews this material for the American Institute for Cancer Research in Washington.

Horoscope

Patience and a quiet voice are the secret, as Mars opposes Saturn and many of those around you are feeling frustrated. Don't push in personal or public relations efforts. Impress others with your maturity instead of your efficiency, as delays or snafus in procedure may be unavoidable. Put off shopping, if possible; defects are harder to live with than to buy at a discount.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — Put off requests for dates or following other romantic pursuits; tomorrow is more favorable for love. Diplomacy with co-workers helps you maintain your special status at work. Kids are influenced by peers.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) — Fully doing don't mix with romance just yet. Be ready for fun with friends recently made. Strike a balance of activity; some work, some exercise, some calls, some fun. Details make a difference.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21) — Money moves are key; what you buy, sell or renovate can lead to big improvements. You will find that advice plays an important role in relationships; what you give and get says more than words.

CANCER (June 22-July 22) — You have so much energy and so many ideas; join them down, so you don't forget. It's easy to get attention, get your way, and get started on important personal projects, such as diets. Shop a little, too.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — Quiet moments or time spent people-watching puts you in touch with the sweet side of life. Stop and smell flowers; perform at least one act of charity. You get favorably received when you do your best.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (June 22) — Extra special money-making power attends your efforts; be creative, and look for new ways to add to income. In July, visitors to your home are delightful. In August and September, renovation, add to equity or buy a new home; October and November, fall in love, start babies or go back to school.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — A co-worker thinks you don't like him or her; make an effort to establish an understanding, using a nice smile and kind word. Brains outweigh beauty in making a good impression, and you've been so overweighted.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) — All that glad-handing pays off now, with elective office or an appointment to a responsible position within your club. Don't let your success at jealousy. Instead, let the record speak for itself; you win.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) — Make decisions based on experience and common sense. When you are up against hot competition for a job, you'll win hands down. Trouble with newfangled equipment simply means you should take how-to-class.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) — After a day of hard work, you'll need some exercise, or walk to a bookstore for a new thriller. Refresh your mind, and life gets simpler right away.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — Extracurricular activities may be lowering your daydreams but since in a while you're entitled to a wild sate, get the fine print on benefits package. Relax, and take routine slowly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — Let bygones go by when an ex calls. Don't confide in anyone if the stakes are high. An honest answer firmly puts in their place those who try to bait you into taking sides in your personal life.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — Travel is in the near future. Mollify mate by giving in on budget matters; but don't give up your private time. Kids need lots of attention. Flirt with a new friend.

ASTROLOGICAL QUESTIONS: A 2/24/56 Pisces writes: "I've been thinking of starting a new career, going into health therapies or medical technologies or something of the kind. Can you help me decide what would be best for me?"

Pisces people are very good health therapists, as are the other water signs (Cancer and Scorpio). With Mercury in Aquarius, you don't mind solitary study or research, so choose your specific skill according to personal preference, because you certainly are talented in many aspects of medicine. If you want to work with computers or some electronic equipment, your Sagittarian Sun will come in very handy. But all this fire in your signs, moon and Jupiter in Leo and Venus in Aries, besides the Sag Saturn, shows that you enjoy working directly with people, and you have plenty of leadership ability. So you may not be one of the shy Pisceans who are comfortable working alone on a daily basis.

Artists often combine to record hits

By Bill Beggs
Correspondent

TWO HEADS ARE BETTER: That certainly was the case for John Lennon and Paul McCartney, the main creative force behind the Beatles. Their voices didn't sound too bad together, either. These dynamic duos also have enjoyed a special chemistry most of the time.

1. What early 1973 No. 4 hit on Billboard's Hot 100 was the biggest hit for Loggins & Messina?

2. What duo hit the Top 20 late last year with "Would I Lie To You?" — a radio-friendly splash of "retro" soul?

3. Their biggest hit was "Soul Man," No. 2 in the fall of 1967; their last names, respectively, were Moore and Prater. Under what name did they do their duet?

4. Who wrote "A World Without Love," a debut No. 1 hit in the summer of 1964, the biggest ever for Peter & Gordon?

5. Mel & Tim, Mississippi cousins Mel Hardin and Tim McPherson, hit No. 10 in 1969, with what? Their last names, respectively, were Moore and Prater. Under what name did they do their duet?

6. Who was George Michael's original partner, under what name did they record, and what was their No. 1 debut hit later?

7. Simon & Garfunkel had three No. 1 hits as a duo, in 1966, 1968 and 1970; what, respectively, were they?

8. Simon & Garfunkel had their hit-making heyday in the early 1960s, with five No. 1 songs between 1966 and 1968. But their first No. 1 was in 1973. What was it?

9. Hall & Oates had their hit-making heyday in the early 1980s, with five No. 1 songs between 1981 and 1984. But their first No. 1 was in 1973. What was it?

10. "I'm Your Mama Don't Dance," 1. "Your Mama Don't Dance," 2. Charles & Eddie 3. Sam & Dave 4. Paul McCartney 5. "Backfield In Motion" 6. The Everly Brothers 7. Andrew Ridgeley 8. WHAM! U.K. 9. "Wake Me Up Before You Go-Go" 10. "Sounds Of Silence," "Mrs. Robinson," "Bridge Over Troubled Water" 9. "Rich Girl"

Looking Glass Playhouse to present 'Wizard of Oz'

By Jim Haverstick
Correspondent

For Mike Satchell, recreating the classic musical "The Wizard of Oz" on the stage at the Looking Glass Playhouse is both a blessing and a curse.

The blessing is that the musical is a show that everyone knows and loves. On the other hand, because it is a classic, it is next to impossible to make up for missing practice.

"It is unbelievable how much talent and energy is up there on the stage," he says. "I think I had one-fenth of that energy."

"The Wizard of Oz" will be presented at 7:30 p.m. this weekend, June 24-25, and at 2 p.m. Sunday, June 27, at the Looking Glass Playhouse, 301 W. St. Louis St. in Lebanon. General admission is $3. For reservations call 537-9622.

The cast includes a total of 99 youths.

Having such a large cast allows Satchell to cast one character as the Munchkins and a separate chorus as the residents of Emerald City.

Satchell said when the whole gang gets together they have the energy, enthusiasm and talent to make up for missing practice.

"It is unbelievable how much talent and energy is up there on the stage," he says. "I think I had one-fenth of that energy."

"The Wizard of Oz" will be presented at 7:30 p.m. this weekend, June 24-25, and at 2 p.m. Sunday, June 27, at the Looking Hectic — Two hours after graduating from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Matt Mueller and Shelly Bollman Mueller got married. Two days later, the couple headed to Alaska to begin a new life together. A civil engineering graduate, Mueller is going to work for Lounsbury and Associates, a consulting engineering firm. Mrs. Mueller, who received a degree in electrical engineering, is hoping to find a job in her field.

Medicare pays for some skilled health services in your home

By Bill Hunot
Social Security Administration

Q. I'm in the hospital recovering from surgery. I am well enough to be discharged from the hospital but still need to see some doctor. The social worker here says that Medicare may pay for me to get my therapy at home. Is this right?

A. In some circumstances, Medicare may pay for skilled health care services in your home. If you think you may be eligible for this type of service, contact your doctor or a local home health agency that participates in Medicare. A home health agency may be a public or private agency. Its specialists provide skilled nursing services and therapeutic services (like physical therapy) to homebound individuals.

Q. I plan to take a job this summer as a waitress. Will I have to pay Social Security taxes on my tips?

A. Yes. You have to pay Social Security taxes on tips you make $20 or more per month in cash tips. (This includes tips received in cash directly from customers or from other employees.) You also need to pay a credit card charge.) You and your employer are required to pay Social Security and Medicare taxes on tips.

Q. Should I keep a daily record of the tips you receive, and if your tip income totals $20 or more in a month, report the amount to your employer. Your employer is responsible for reporting the correct tip and wage information to Social Security and the Internal Revenue Service.

Employees who earn tips are affected by these rules. This includes workers in food and beverage establishments, hotel employees, cab drivers, hairdressers, etc.

No one likes to pay more taxes. But there is one consolation: Reporting your tips and paying the taxes on them will mean more Social Security benefits for you and your family after you retire, become disabled or die.

For your information: Each time a Social Security benefit is paid, the government saves 25 cents. More than 20 million people currently are taking advantage of the convenience of direct deposit.

Some people receive benefits to children than any other federal program: about 3.2 million children receive Social Security benefits.

Streaking Eagles double up Wizards again

By R.J. Gerber
Staff writer

Not only did Granite City continue its assault on the rest of the Mon-Clay League on Sunday, the Eagles tripled up their newest addition in pitcher Drake Marshall — who picked up the win in the second game of a doubleheader sweep over Sauget.

Granite City ran its season-opening winning streak to 12 games with 4-3 and 8-1 triumphs over the shorthanded Wizards, who fell to 1-12. The Eagles are 2-2.

Marshall, a righthander now pitching at Southwest Missouri State, struggled early with a walk and two errors. But the former Granite City High hurler got the win with some relief help from Brian Harshman.

SAUGET LOADED the bases in the second inning when Bob Nance reached on a fielder's choice, Scott Stephens singled and Rich Sauget walked. But better team than us right now. They've got the best pitching staff in the league."

Marshall got out of the third inning with only Atkinson scoring. Sauget had runners in first and second with none out, but Marshall struck out cleanup batter Jason Boehlow and got Nance to ground into double play. He then reached the next batter, who was faced. He struck out the runner in the fourth.

AFTER THE EAGLES scored three times, Sauget starter Scott Brown was in the fifth. Marshall was lifted. He gave up the one run on four hits and struck out eight. Sauget had 10 hits while walking three in his 1993 debut.

"I wasn't sure who I wanted to start, but after talking to both guys, I decided to go with Drake," said Granite City player-manager Darin DePew. "When you win, it's easy to keep people happy. We found a way to win again and we're just going to enjoy that while it lasts."

Granite City put the game out of reach with five more runs in the sixth inning, knocking Brown out of the game. DePew pinch hit for Mike Nordstrom and chipped in with a two-run single. (See EAGLES, Page 4D)

Marshall settled down and fanned Mike Williams and Kevin Lemp.

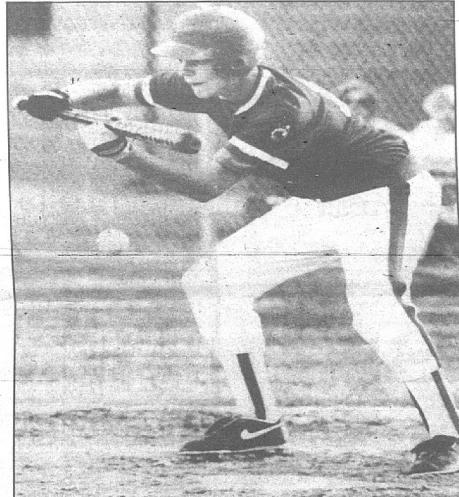

Marshall did give up a run in the third on a leadoff home run by Mike Atkinson, but his curveball had the Sauget batters off balance the rest of the game.

"The second was a very biginning for us," Sauget player-manager Rick Fiala said. "The same about it is we didn't have all our players out there and a batter in the No. 9 spot that hadn't batted all season. They're just a

Paddlers to hold swim lessons

Sign-ups for swimming lessons to be offered by the Paddlers will be from 9-11 a.m. Saturday, July 3.

Each session lasts 30 minutes, and sessions will last two weeks. The fee is $20 for members and $25 for non-members.

Soccer tryouts being held

The Lou Fuz Soccer Club will hold tryouts July 1-2 and July 6-7. The tryouts are for boys in the following age groups: Under 9, Under 10, Under 11, Under 12 and Under 13. Call 314-937-0004.

Amateur hockey seeking coaches

The Granite City Amateur Hockey Association is seeking adults who wish to become involved as either head or assistant coaches for youth hockey teams.

The association runs the Steeler teams, which are made up of boys and girls age 9-17 from Granite City. The players are selected by teams according to their age and skill level.

The teams belong to the Missouri Amateur Ice Hockey Association. Practices begin in October and continue until March. League and practice games against other teams in the St. Louis metro area begin in December. Opportunities exist for additional tournament play outside the St. Louis area.

The association is seeking individuals who have an interest and the time and desire to build a quality recreational and competitive program for young players. Interested individuals are helpful. Selected candidates will receive training and certification in the Missouri Coaching Achievement Program.

Candidates should contact the Granite City Amateur Hockey Association by July 1 at P.O. Box 184, Granite City, Ill., or call Dan Svezia at 877-0982.

Whiffle ball tourney set

Teams are being sought for the 1993 United States Perforated Plastic Baseball Association's national tournament, which will be held July 6-16 at the Lakeside Park whiffle ball complex in Granite City.

The tournament will be run by the Lakeside Kings, a whiffle ball team coached by Jerome Coyle. At the site in the tournament will be a $10,000 cash purse, 70 percent of which goes to the tournament champion. The top four teams will receive cash prizes, and individual awards will also be given.

The entry fee is $275 per team and $150 per player by June 30. The fee for late entry is $400 and is due by July 10.

The tournament will consist of a minimum of 32 teams to be determined. The format is double elimination, and USPPBA rules will apply.

For more information, call 797-7974.

Wood River cools off Juniors, 4-1

By Scott Wuerz
Correspondent

The Tri-City Junior Triplets were unable to sweep Wood River in a three-game set, dropping the teams' third and final meeting of the season 4-1 Sunday night in Granite City.

The Juniors triplets had won the first two games with Wood River, but they were unable to overcome a pair of key defensive miscues despite strong pitching by Tieman.

JUNIOR TRIPLETS coach Jerry McKechnie said he was pleased with his team's effort.

"We've played Wood River three times in the last week, and through my observations, I think we have won tonight, winning three in a row in that span of time is something that is extremely difficult to do," McKechnie said.

Tieman gave up one run in the first inning, when Wood River center fielder Mike Vanover hit a double to left, then went to third on an attempted sacrifice and scored when the Junior Triplets once again tried to catch the runner going to third and threw the ball away instead.

TRICITY MADE the game interesting in the bottom of the seventh with a score 4-1. Right fielder Steve Geske singled to lead off the inning and moved to second on a single from John Green. Green singled again through the Triplets' third consecutive single, but Buttry was able to shut the Triplets' next three.

Wood River's final two runs came in almost identical fashion at the top of the seventh. Shatlock hit a single to left, then went to third on an attempted sacrifice and scored when the Junior Triplets once again tried to catch the runner going to third and threw the ball away instead.

After Wood River's final two runs, the Junior Triplets' left-hander had little trouble with the lefthander from Freeburg in the fifth inning.

Lignoul said the Triplets' left-handed batters had little trouble with the lefthander from Freeburg High School. (See TRIPLETS, Page 4D) and Ben Hicks tossed a two-hitter through six innings against Smithton.

Joe Rieser closed out both games in the seventh inning.

"OUR PITCHING HAS been excellent," Tri-City manager Tom Schaeffer said. "I think we did just outstanding for the week. We've done a good job so far."

The Triplets' earned-run average is 1.25 through eight games.

Amazingly, the staff has recorded

24-3 to the Miami Valley Seniors in Cinn.

"OUR BATS WENT silent," said Gray Eagles manager Stan Schaeffer. "The bats were awful good team. They jumped on us right away and we made a couple of miscues."

"We were down at the end. But we knew we had to come back and do the same thing to them," Schaeffer said.

The Gray Eagles trailed just 6-3 in the fourth, but the Miami Valley Seniors hit them with an 11-run inning to seal the victory. Based on runs scored in the medial round, the Gray Eagles finished fifth in the competition.

Two weeks ago in Syracuse, N.Y., the Gray Eagles finished fourth. But since then Schaeffer said the competition has heated up considerably.

"It only took one win in '91 to get to the second place," Schaeffer said. "This year, it took two."

"Nuxhall's brother played third base (for the Miami Valley Seniors).

They had another guy who looked like Mickey Mantle did when he was 22."

Nuxhall is a former major-league pitcher.

DETROIT NORTHRUFFT won the 55th over softball competition, as it defeated defending champion Abbey Lane of Miami in the final game of the tournament.

The Miami Valley Seniors won on to finish third with a 2-1 triumph over Danny's of Pasadena, Md.

Schrader racing at Tri-City

Granite City-Winona Cup star Ken Schrader and the NASCAR All-Star Tour for Dirt Late Models will make their only appearance of the year at Tri-City Speedway tonight.

Schrader will be trying for the "Threepeat" in the Car Quest AC/Delco 50s Wednesday. Schrader, the defending champion of the race, has won the three racing pros in two previous years. Car Quest/AC Delco 50s on the fast one-mile dirt track.

Schrader, a former Feston, Mo., native, will face a strong challenge from three-time National Point Champion Larry Phillips, of Springfield, Mo. Also on hand to challenge Schrader will be Tom Schrader, son of Steve Kosiski, current Tour point leader Bob Hill and Track Record Holder Kevin Gundaker.

Over 30 drivers have entered to compete for over $10,000 in posted prizes, with the winner of the Car Quest/AC/Delco 50s taking home $3,000.

Spectator gates open at 5 p.m. with the first race beginning at 7 p.m. and racing at 8 p.m. Tickets are $15 for adults, $10 for students age 11-17 and $5 for children 10 and under. All St. Louis area Car Quest Auto Parts Stores are offering $2 discount coupons for all tickets.

For more information, call Raceline at 314-947-7287 or 618-931-7836.

"He's a good pitcher," Lignoul said. "What we did real well against him was lay back on the curveball. Our left-handers went the other way with it."

IT WAS THE fourth straight win for the Triplets, who kept their modest streak alive last Thursday with a 3-2 victory in Danville. Tri-City rallied for two runs in the sixth inning to make a winner of Riesen in relief.

"We got a win, but we didn't quite sign him," Lignoul said.

The only loss for the Triplets has been against Marissa. Pitcher Brian Smith shut down Tri-City in a 2-0 victory.

"We've got beat in a good baseball game," Lignoul said. "Marissa's a good team."

Hicks, who took the loss against Marissa, is 1-1. Windom is 2-0, as is Dickson. Jeff Ridenour, the team's fourth starter, started against Collinsville and did not get a decision.

WITH FOUR starters and a reliable closer who can also start, the Triplets have plenty of pitching.

"These five kids are doing a great job," Lignoul said. "The keys for us have been the pitching and defense. We're really working hard on the little things."

Lignoul is hoping the staff's depth will pay off as the summer progresses.

Tri-City's next game is 7:30 p.m. tonight at home against Highland. The Triplets will also get a test this week when they travel to Danville to play in the Louisville Slugger Invitational.

TRI-CITY WILL begin play at 1:30 p.m. Thursday against Mattoon. The tournament, which consists of 28 teams and five brackets, runs through Sunday.

The Triplets will play one game Thursday, two games Friday and one Saturday at Danville, which lost to Danville in the championship game last year, will try to win its bracket and advance to the final round.

"We're looking forward to it," Lignoul said.

After the tournament, the Triplets will travel to Edwardsburg next Tuesday for an 8 p.m. game.

Legion, Auxiliary hold fest

The 13th annual Mayfest at the Illinois Veterans' Home in Quincy given by the 22nd District American Legion and Auxiliary was held on May 16.

The residents enjoyed playing carnival-type poker, dollar stand, and bingo during the afternoon. A bingo was also held in one of the residential wings for ones who could not come to Lippincott Hall for the event.

Gifts of $5 were given to all residents who are confined to their rooms or bed by Sharon Hydron, 22nd District president, and Richard Sullivan, 22nd District commander.

Those attending from Venice-Madison Unit 307 were Dorothy Hinson, Betty Wallace, and Marge Nonn, seniors; and Cathy Moreland, Bobbie Chastain, and Amber Singleton, juniors. Attending from Post and Unit 113 of Granite City were: Harold Chandler, 22nd District senior vice commander; Lenora Martin; Violet Taylor; Rose Moreland; Bill Moreland; and James Taylor.

K of C initiates five

At its regular council meeting, the Knights of Columbus initiated five new members into the first degree.

The new members are Robert J. Herman, Eugene E. Koehler, Joseph F. Rosales, Clarence E. Whitecotton, and Raymond E. Williamson.

They will receive their final degrees later.

Sodality welcomes 114

On May 2 St. Elizabeth Ladies Sodality President Kathy Mangi welcomed 114 members and guests to their annual Communion Breakfast after participating in the ministry of Mass at 8 a.m. She thanked the St. Elizabeth's Men's Club for preparing and serving breakfast.

Mangi recognized the following chairpersons and officers with gifts for their assistance during the year: Cindy Whitt, Mary Elyne Vencho, Florence Moore, Norma Kwiatkowski, Jan Polach, Mary Carich, Loretta Haack, Catherine Ponce, Linda Bokovac, Anneliese Gyrmati, Maggie Groboski, Vivian Byer, Agnes Friedel, Gayle Carr, Dorothy Voloupal, and Carmen Schwartz.

The $500 drawing winners were: Terry Gula, Ann Barry, and Dennis Bixby. Attendance prizes of potted plants were given to Mary Carich, Martha Meier, Marcella Earney, Anneliese Gyrmati, Dot Hanne, Mary Noeth, Norma Kwiatkowski, Mildred King, Josephine Uram, Florence Powers, Berta Milianis, and Ida Gragg.

INGROWN NAILS?

If you are plagued by the presence of ingrown nails, you know they can be quite painful.

The problem also represents an impending infection with related complications.

Relief may be obtained by a brief in-office procedure. In most cases work is resumed without interruption.

Feel free to call the specialists of The Foot Health Centers for details.

Daughters of Isabella to donate to building fund at cemetery

The June meeting of the Daughters of Isabella, Our Lady of Fatima Circle 835, was called to order by Irma Manning, regent.

The charter was draped in memory of deceased member Goldie Coleman.

Roll call of officers and reading of the minutes was by Dorothy Hoedebeck, recording secretary. Treasurer's report was given by Margaret Kwiatkowski. Financial Secretary Stephanie Ruzic reported membership of 61. Vice Regent/Scribe Lucille Caban reported sending four get-well cards and one sympathy card and reported on the good coverage in the local press.

Dorothy Hoedebeck reported on the convention held in Effingham, April 23 through April 25. There were 125 members in attendance.

Proceeds from a successful boutique shop fund raiser was donated to Pro-Life. The next state convention will be in Chicago.

Members voted to donate the funds to construct a chapel/office complex in Edwardsville Calvary Cemetery.

Regent Manning reported the following students were awarded scholarships from the Granite City D of I Circle: Catherine Ann Richardson and LaDonna Jackson, both from Holy Family School, and Lynn Johnson from St. Elizabeth School.

The next meeting will be the picnic, July 1, at 6 p.m. in the Knights of Columbus Chamber Meeting Room. Members are to bring a covered dish and prizes for games. The meat course will be catered. Reservations must be made by June 24.

MEMORIAL'S OUTPATIENT SURGERY CENTER... ...GOING BEYOND WHAT'S EXPECTED.

Most outpatient surgery centers can offer a shorter, less expensive stay. But at Memorial's Outpatient Surgery Center, that's just the beginning.

Memorial does things differently - and, we think, better.

Most outpatient surgery facilities group patients in a large "shared" room close to other patients for their care before and after surgery - allowing little or no privacy when you need to discuss personal medical concerns with your physician or nurse. Memorial's Outpatient Surgery Center sets new standards for others to follow by providing you with personalized care by exceptional nursing professionals in our 28 private areas - each with a TV and room for a family members to stay with you before and after surgery.

We've also paid attention to other things you told us were important...such as prompt registration, a separate family waiting area, convenient adjacent parking and a drive-up entrance. Small conveniences, perhaps, but aren't these what we notice most?

When your physician recommends outpatient surgery, ask that it be performed at Memorial's Outpatient Surgery Center - where personalized caring, privacy, and convenience go beyond what's expected.

Fragrant leis will greet Hawaiian guests on tour

The well known tradition of lei giving is a celebrated custom within the Hawaiian Islands, originated by the Polynesians before the Islands were settled.

In ancient days leis were designed for greater permanency. These necklaces were made of bone, shell, nuts or feathers. Feathers were the most popular and were primarily made for royalty. Their feathers, often yellow or red, were highly prized as a mark of distinction.

The flower lei is a gift given for all occasions and often for no occasion at all.

The lei can celebrate the completion of school, a birthday, the year's end, the opening of an artist's exhibit, a job well done, or simply given to a loved one whose favorite flower is in bloom. The lei is given as a token of love. It connotes thoughtfulness. The lei brings to those who wear it not only sentiment, but its intoxicating fragrance.

One of the most popular uses today is to celebrate the arrival of friends to the Islands. Journal tourists, as an example, will receive fresh flower leis and a warm Aloha greeting from their tour director when they arrive in Honolulu this winter.

Legend speaks of an older Hawaiian gentleman who lived in the countryside on the Island of Molokai. On his weekly sojourn to town, he would, as he always was, a favorite hat to keep the sun from his face because the walk was so long one.

The villagers remarked about the wide and magnificent lei he would proudly wear around his hat as a hat band. They used to say to him, "You are a good man, but your wife, back in the countryside, must love him very much to take the time and effort to weave a beautiful lei and lead lei to him when he visited town."

This winter Journal readers travel to Maui and Oahu to celebrate Christmas in Hawaii. Then in February the annual Grand Hotel Tournament is hosted by Anne Keefe, will visit four islands on an all-inclusive deluxe program. "Earlybird" reservations are being accepted on both tours.

For information and reservations contact Tenholder Travel, 800-333-5910 in St. Louis or a Vis- ta World Travel Independent Agent. The Journal Grand Tours also will visit Alaska, Scandinavia, the Greek Islands, and Australia, and New Zealand during the next 18 months.

FAMILY

Wins the gold in Special Olympics

Ellen Cardin of Snyder, Texas, daughter of Larry and Jennie Cardin, former residents of Granite City, received the gold medal for the wheelchair division and fourth place for the softball throw in the State Special Olympics, held in Denton, Texas.

This was her first attempt in state competition which is celebrated with enthusiasm. Ellen is the granddaughter of Joseph and Marilyn Timmons of Granite City and Robert and Mary Cardin of Dixon, Mo.

Graduation party held

Melanie K. Gensert was honored at a graduation party given by her parents, Dave and Mary Ann Gensert, of Blue Spruce Court. Melanie graduated from eighth grade at St. Elizabeth Catholic School.

She was presented the American Legion Award and the Presidential Academic Award at the ceremony May 27. The Rev. Robert DeGrand and the Rev. Francis Tebaguna celebrated the Mass. Beverly Foote, principal, presided over the award ceremony.

The party was held May 29. Those attending were the honoree's brothers, Jay Gensert and Edward Gensert; her godparents, Dr. and Mrs. Tim Stout; and daughters, Ellen and Amy; her great-uncle, Anthony Pogorelak; her great-aunt, Mary Pogorelak; and her great-uncle, Mike Grba.

Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bigham and children, Brad, Michael and Shelly; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Herman and son, Joe; Pat Huford; Hane Kozielek; Mr. and Mrs. Casey Krakowicki; Judy Kulasz and children, Brian, Ryan and Madison; Mr. and Mrs. Andy Mathes and sons, Jason and Steven; Mr. and Mrs. Lody Milkovich; Krislyn Niggl; Charlie Pogorelak and children, Brian and Emily.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Reader and children, Kathleen, John and Philip; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sedej and children, Amanda and Ryan; Mr. and Mrs. John Sotiroff; Chris Sotiroff; Mr. and Mrs. George Sotiroff; Mr. and Mrs. Ned Tapp and children, Amy, Amanda and Jason; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Togolak; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Williamson and children, Laurie and Nathan; and Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Zust and children, Christian and Emily.

Decorations in the school colors of blue and gold and vases of roses were used. A buffet dinner was served.

The honoree will be attending Granite City High School in the honors program this fall.
